ONLY FOUR VETERANS FOR BASEBALL TEAM

Men for Tiger Diamond Must Be Drawn From Freshman Nine.

GOOD FRATERNITY CLUBS

Indoor Practice to Begin for Battery Men on the 29th of January.

Only four "M" men will be eligible for the baseball team this year. They are Hayden, pitcher and outfielder; Brashear, shortstop; Alexander, third base; and Captain Klein, catcher.

This is a very small bunch of veteran material to build a championship team, says Guy S. Lowman, but last year the university had an unusually fast freshman team. The fraternity baseball series also developed a number of good ball players. Among the men having an excellent chance to make the team are: Lipscomb, third base; Aycock, shortstop; O'Byrne, second base; Prather, Hackney and Covington, first base; Marshall and Harper, pitchers; Bradley, catcher, and Collier and Scott, outfielders.

The cage will be set up in the gymnasium for active indoor baseball work for the battery men January 29. A call will be issued for all baseball candidates to report two weeks later.

Coach G. S. Lowman has called a meeting of all men interested for 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Instructions for the season's work will be given and a general idea obtained of the material available.

NEWSPAPER IS PUBLIC VOICE

greatest work in the world except the building of great industry. It is the work of forming public opinion. As a profession, it stands at the top. A newspaper man has a legitimate right to interest himself in anything."

Mr. Brisbane was asked this question: "Why do the Hearst newspapers use larger headlines than many other papers?"

"The idea of using large headlines was my own. I had been in the newspaper business fourteen years when I began my work as editor of the New York Journal and I hadn't spent those fourteen years for nothing. I wanted people to know where I was, and besides I wanted to interest the 5,000 or 6,000 newsboys in New York City in the Journal. The World at that time had all the evening circulation. In five days we couldn't see anything else on the streets excepting Journals, and in a week the World used a red, white and blue letter twice as large as ours. These heads have been somewhat modified now, since our papers have become better known."

"There is a good field for women in newspaper work. Women on newspapers must write as they think, not as they think they should think. Evening papers are largely read by women and women understand the needs of the woman reader. We have three women on Hearst's newspapers who are getting salaries twice as large as any other members of the staff, except editors."

HE WORKS AS HE TRAVELS

Brisbane Accompanied by Private Secretary—He Dictates to a Phonograph.

Even away from his office Arthur Brisbane is a worker. He is accompanied on his travels by Emil Steinhauser of New York, his secretary, who carries a folding typewriter and a phonograph into which Mr. Brisbane dictates his editorials.

At Lawrence, Kas., yesterday Mr. Brisbane spoke to the first conference of teachers of journalism. He arrived at Lawrence from Chicago too late to address the students in assembly. His place on the program was filled by Dean Walter Williams of the School of Journalism.

After the conference a dinner complimentary to Mr. Brisbane was given at the Eldridge hotel. Chancellor Strong of the University of Kansas presided. William Allen White was one of the speakers.

Mr. Brisbane was accompanied from Lawrence by Dean Williams and Charles G. Ross. He left at 1:25 o'clock this afternoon for New York.

SO THEY MAY DO A "STUNT."

Engineering Students Petition Dean Shaw For a Holiday.

The students in the School of Engineering at the University of Missouri decided last night to petition H. B. Shaw, dean of the School of Engineering, for a holiday on St. Patrick's day—the engineers' stunt day. It has been the custom for the engineering students to cut classes on this day when the celebration is held in honor of their patron saint. But according to the new ruling of the university, all students who cut on holidays declared by students may have an hour or more taken from their university credit.
